

THE CAT IN THE HAT
Knows a Lot About That!

Oh, the Pets You Can Get!

All About OUR ANIMAL FRIENDS

by Tish Rabe • illustrated by Aristides Ruiz and Joe Mathieu

I'm the Cat in the Hat.
I love pets as you see.
You can meet lots of pets
if you travel with me.

We are off to the faraway
land of Gerpletz,
where they know quite a lot about caring for pets.

It's a great place to go
for pet lovers like us.
Pets are waiting to meet you,
so jump on the bus!

The first place in Gerpletz
we will visit today
is the Play with Your Pet Park, where pets come to play.

Dogs and puppies need exercise.
They love to run!
They chase balls and catch toys,
make new friends and have fun.

Kittens tumble in heaps and bat toys with their paws.
Cats climb up on posts and hold tight with their claws.

In Gerpletz they don't let any pets play with string.
Pets can get tangled.
That's not a good thing!

Guinea pigs need to get lots of exercise, too.

There are ramps to be climbed and tubes to run through.

Rabbits hop all around and love to explore.

They play “soccer” by pushing small balls on the floor.

Birds go flying! Their cages are left open wide.

When they're tired of flying,
they go back inside.

When the pets finish playing,
they run down the street
to the Finer Pet Diner
for something to eat.

There's a lot on the menu,
so each pet can find the food that for them
is the very best kind.

Mr. Finer serves rabbits
a very fine lunch of veggies, fruit, hay, and some pellets to munch.

Guinea pigs nibble veggies,
fruit, grass, grain, and seeds.

Clean water is something that every pet needs.

Mrs. Finer makes cat food that cats love to eat.
She knows cats and kittens always like to eat meat.

Our dog Scrunchy likes dog food, so here's what we do—
feed him dry food or wet food or mix up the two.

Birds feed on pellets
and fruit twice a day.
It is served up to them
on a small plastic tray.

Pets want to make friends,
like you and like me!
They want to be part of your whole family.

With a cat or a dog
you may find—it is true—that the friend they want most to spend time with is you!

Some pets get lonely and think it's more fun
to live with a friend.
So we got more than one.

Every pet that you get needs a nice place to rest.
The Pet Beds and More store has only the best.

Here's a beautiful birdcage.
The best cage to buy
is one that has room
so your pet bird can fly.

A dog might like sleeping on this cozy bed.

Cats might like boxes
or baskets instead.

Guinea pigs like a cage,
but they're glad it is not sitting right in the sunlight.
They don't like to get hot.

This cage for our rabbit is known as a hutch.
It takes time to clean it,
but not very much.

Now, my friends in Gerpletz have just asked me to go be the host of the Pets of Gerpletz TV show!

My first guest is a kitten.
I gave him a hat.
In one year this kitten
will turn into a cat.

If you pet your cat gently
and rub her soft fur, in a minute you might hear your cat start to purr.

When you carry your kitten (we thought this was neat!), put one hand around him,
one under his feet.

Rabbits are cute with their long, fuzzy ears.
Some rabbits will live
from eight to twelve years.

Meet my pet rabbit.
She's known as a Lop.
Her ears don't stand up.
On a Lop, the ears flop.

I carry my rabbit
up close to my chest.
That's the way to be carried that rabbits love best.

PETS
of GERPLETZ

Meet these puppies and dogs.
They are glad to meet you!
They are wonderful pets
who are loyal and true.

When I first got my puppy,
I got a surprise.

Some puppies grow up to be TEN times their size!

You need to train puppies.
When they make mistakes,
understanding and patience are all that it takes.

Now the next special guests
I would like you to meet
are these yellow canaries
and sweet parakeets.

Birds are colorful pets.
They can whistle and sing,
and your home will be filled with the music they bring.

Try this trick with your bird.
It is easy to do it.
Hold your finger straight out—
your bird might fly to it!

We learned this about birds
from our Great-Uncle Mudgie—a parakeet is also known as a budgie!

He taught us about
these canaries we bought.
Male canaries can sing,
but females cannot!

Guinea pigs are sweet pets
and they're easy to feed.
If you don't have much space,
they may be what you need.

Guinea pigs like to hide
in the grass or in hay.
They eat all the time—
about six hours a day!

Guinea pigs like to get a warm bath with shampoo.
Dry them in a soft towel,
then brush their fur, too.

Meet Ms. Fuzzy Finwinkle,
the mayor of Gerpletz.
She's an expert on how to have safe, healthy pets.

Her pets are on leashes
so they cannot stray.
They stay close to her.
They are safer that way.

Her pets all wear tags
with her name and address.
Who do they belong to?
Folks don't have to guess.

When she goes on vacation,
Ms. Finwinkle gets a pet-sitter or friend who will care for her pets.

When you care for your pets,
there's a lot you can do to keep your pets healthy and YOU healthy, too.

Put detergent up high so your pets can't get to it.

A houseplant goes where your pets won't try to chew it.

When cleaning a cage,
wear gloves like we do.
Use hot water and soap.
Wash your hands when you're through.

Keep your toilet lid closed so your pets do not think that the water inside it is for them to drink!

There are people with pets,
I am sorry to say,
who for all kinds of reasons
must give them away.

They go to pet shelters.
Right here in Gerpletz there's a shelter that's full of all kinds of nice pets.

So if you want a pet,
here is what you can do—
get a pet from a shelter
to take home with you.

Now, at least once a year
many pets that you get to stay healthy will need to go visit a vet.

The vet checks your pet,
listens to his heart beating,
and asks you some questions
like “Is your pet eating?”

A veterinarian,
I'd like to report,
is an animal doctor
called a “vet” for short.

A VET is a VETERINARIAN

Each time we take one of our pets to the vet,
we write down what we're told
so that we won't forget.

If your pet doesn't eat,
or does not want to play,
or your pet's losing weight,
see the vet right away!

I know getting a pet
is a big thing to do.
There are questions to answer and here are a few—

Do you have enough space
for a pet of this size?
Will he have room to play?
Will she get exercise?

Do you have enough time
for your pet every day?
Who will care for your pet
if you must go away?

Now, you may just decide after meeting these pets
that you are not ready to get a pet yet.

But if you DO get one,
please don't give it away.
Close to you is the one place your pet wants to stay.

Take your time to decide so you know from the start
you can keep it for life

in your home

and your heart.
